

Aged Care...Who Cares?

Want to stay in your own home but need some extra care?
What does it really mean to live in a retirement village? Or an aged care facility?
What are all those fees and charges and which ones will apply to you?
Should you sell the family home or not?

The answers to these questions and many more will be explained by our panel of experts, including Noel Whittaker and Rachel Lane who will be launching their aged care book.

Noel Whittaker Co-founding Director, Whittaker Macnaught

Noel is the author of 20 bestselling books, appears frequently in every major newspaper in the country, and broadcasts on over 50 radio stations each week. He has been named Australian Investment Planner of the Year (1988), been awarded the Australian Centenary Medal (2003), and in 2011 was made a Member of the Order of Australia for “outstanding service and commitment to the financial industry”.

Rachel Lane Executive Manager – Aged Care Solutions, Colonial First State

Rachel is well known and respected within the aged care and financial planning industries. She regularly facilitates workshops for the Aged Care Association of Australia (ACAA), and is highly sought after as a presenter at aged care conferences and seminars.
